

Damon Harmon, CPA, CGA

Executive Managing Principal, Broker

Professional Experience

As Executive Managing Principal of Cresa Alberta Ltd., Damon leads the firm's Calgary and Edmonton operations, overseeing a team of 24 professionals while maintaining an active advisory practice. With more than 26 years of experience in commercial real estate, he continues to operate at a high level, delivering sophisticated occupier-focused solutions across complex transactions.

Damon specializes in aligning real estate strategy with broader business objectives. He works closely with clients to define both immediate and long-term requirements, leveraging market intelligence, financial analysis, and workplace considerations to structure solutions that optimize flexibility, cost efficiency, and organizational performance. His approach integrates both economic and cultural factors, ensuring real estate decisions support both the balance sheet and how organizations operate and grow.

Over his career, Damon has represented organizations across a broad range of industries—including professional services, energy, technology, healthcare, and industrial sectors—providing him with a comprehensive understanding of diverse occupier requirements and market dynamics.

Since joining Cresa in 2003, Damon has leased or sold over six million square feet of commercial space, representing a wide range of local, national, and global occupiers.

Damon is an alumnus of Mount Royal University.
