

Matt Deutsch

Associate Data Center Capital Markets & Advisory

Professional Experience

Matt is an Associate on Cresa's Data Center Capital Markets & Advisory team, where he supports the execution of transactions and delivery of services across the group's comprehensive platform. He is involved in all aspects of the mission-critical real estate sector, including occupier representation, development advisory, project leasing, and investment sales.

Before joining Cresa, Matt served as an Associate on Newmark's specialized Data Center team, where he played a key role in business development and supported a wide range of digital infrastructure transactions.

His expertise spans colocation site selection, asset dispositions, lease restructures, and renewals. He also brings experience in client engagement strategies across both U.S. and international markets, with a focus on strategic development and marketing within the data center real estate landscape.

Client List

Matt prioritizes client privacy and operates under strict confidentiality. While he is unable to share specific client names, he can provide anonymized examples of past engagements that demonstrate his capabilities when directly requested.
